

Listening 1: Copenhagen and Singapore

Woman: Copenhagen was recently the world's best and it's easy to see why. The city has kilometres of safe paths. Some of them are raised above the level of the You don't even need to have your own; you can use a, which is free. All you need is a to release it. When you it, you get your money back, so it costs you nothing. percent of the people who live in Copenhagen to work or to school and college by bike. In fact, there are more than people in the city, and there are more bikes than cars.

Man: A great way to in Singapore is by river The is about $3 – and you get a view of the city from the river. Water taxis are with commuters, and anyone who wants to get from A to B. Each taxi can carry up to 60

Listening 2: Malik lives in Casablanca, Morocco

Interviewer: Malik: I'm at here in Casablanca, in Morocco. I've lived here for three years. My parents are both, so we've lived in several different countries.

Interviewer: And have you around much?

Malik: Yes, we've been on to quite a few parts of the, to the coast near Agadir, to the mountains and to the edge of the desert.

Interviewer: Is it easy to around?

Malik: Yes, it is, especially between the big We went to Marrakesh recently, on the I love trains. The between Casablanca and Marrakesh was built a hundred years ago. It's not very fast, but it's and it's a great way to see the It's a little bit more than the bus, but it's worth it.

Interviewer: Are there special for young people?

Malik: Yes, if you're under 12, you get a ticket.

Interviewer: How long did the take?

Malik: It took 3 hours, 20 minutes.

Interviewer: How is it?

Malik: I think it's just over 200

Interviewer: Have you been on the train yet?

Malik: You mean Al-Boraq? Yes! We went from Casablanca to Tangier. It at 300 kilometres per hour. It's a train: it's got an upper and a lower deck. We went on the upper It was fantastic!

Interviewer: You said you went to the Atlas Mountains. How did you there?

Malik: We went to Marrakesh by train and then we went in a, which we with some other people.

Interviewer: And what about in your day-to-day life. How do you get to school? Do you, do you cycle or do you go by?

Malik: None of those.

Interviewer: Oh.

Malik: No, I use the The trams are really good.

Interviewer: Oh, really? I didn't know there were trams in Casablanca.

Malik: Yes, the tram was opened in 2012 and it was in 2019.

Interviewer: You seem to know a lot about it.

Malik: Well, my parents are both engineers and I'm doing a project on at school.

Interviewer: Ah, that explains it. Well, thank you, Malik, for giving us a very interesting